GLOBAL AVIATION MANAGEMENT

MA

WHAT IS GLOBAL AVIATION MANAGEMENT?

Launch your career in the global aviation industry.

Our MA in Global Aviation Management is designed for graduates aiming to operate at a strategic and international level within the aviation industry. The programme focuses on advanced aviation economics, global airline and airport strategy, aviation policy, sustainability, and international regulatory frameworks. You will analyse complex market dynamics and global trends while strengthening your leadership, negotiation, and strategic decision-making skills — preparing you for senior and executive roles in aviation.

The curriculum combines academic rigour with practical insight, equipping you to navigate the complexities of the global aviation sector and compete confidently in an international job market.

THE WAY WE TEACH

Our Aviation Management programme blends theory with hands-on practice. You'll tackle real case studies, conduct environmental and financial analyses, join simulation games, and take part in international aviation projects. This approach ensures you graduate with both academic knowledge and practical experience.

Your progress will be evaluated through a mix of essays, reports, presentations, and in-class activities. Small class sizes mean personalised support and close contact with lecturers. Our teaching team includes international experts and industry professionals, offering insights from their daily work in aviation.
